The Truth Will Set You Free

Catherine Adair worked for Planned Parenthood in Boston, MA believing she was helping women. She worked in every aspect of the clinic, including counseling women, assisting in the procedure room, and working in the recovery room. She witnessed thousands of abortions. After seeing the aftermath of a second-trimester abortion, her life was forever changed. She is now married with five children, one of them adopted after her birth mother changed her mind about abortion. Catherine is dedicated to revealing the truth about the horror of what happens behind the closed clinic doors.
